Chillicothe Woman Killed In Routes 104-56 Collision

Teamsters Halted In Latin Arms Plot

Officials Urged To Seek Ouster Of Union Chief

Three Firms Burglarized; Safe 'Peeled' at Wayne Twp.

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department today investigated three burglaries committed in this area during the weekend. One was a safe-cracking job at Wayne Twp. School on Route 104 about five miles southwest of here.

The Hunsicker and Heffner Grain Elevators at Woodlyn near Williamsport also were entered.

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff said it was not immediately determined how much money was taken at Wayne Twp. School. He said the door of the vault was "peeled", making it impossible to get the safe open for close investigation.

The sheriff said a welder was called to the scene at noon today to cut the door away so a close check could be made. School officials said about $100 was in the safe.

DEPUTY Charles Felkey said $6.31 was taken from a safe and $3 from a cash drawer at Hunsicker's Elevator. Nothing was reported missing at the Heffner firm.

Sheriff Radcliff said it appears all three jobs were pulled by the same gang. He said methods used at the Wayne Twp. job indicated the crackers were experienced in working on safes. Tom Wagner of the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation was called to the scene.

Entry was made at the school by forcing a door to a furnace room. Entrance at Hunsicker's was gained through a window. A door was forced at Heffner's.

The sheriff said the burglars apparently were after money only.

Suicide Ruled In Car Death

Columbus Man, 57, Alive When Found

Suicide by carbon monoxide poisoning was ruled in the death of Perry D. Windham, 57, Columbus. He was found in his car on Route 316 along Darby Creek near Darbyville at 11 a. m. yesterday.

Windham was still alive when found slumped over in his auto. Frantic efforts of artificial respiration by two fishermen who spotted him were unsuccessful.

A note left in the car indicated that prolonged illness prompted Windham to take his life. The note was addressed to the victim's wife.

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff and Deputy Robert Hoover said Windham had hooked a section of garden hose from his car's tailpipe to the wing glass on the driver's side. They said he had stuffed rags around the hose at the tailpipe and at the wing vent so none of the carbon monoxide could escape.

DR. RAY CARROLL, Pickaway County coroner, viewed the body. He ruled suicide.

Windham was found by Richard A. Good of Darbyville who was walking along Darby Creek in search of a fishing spot. He turned off the motor of the car and removed Windham from the auto.

F. E. Warren, Route 2, Ashville, was fishing on the other side of the creek. Good called him for help.

Good said Windham was barely breathing when he pulled him from the auto. He said the victim's breathing stopped, started again in response to artificial respiration, then stopped permanently.

Sheriff Radcliff said he estimated Windham inhaled fumes for about 30 minutes prior to Good's arrival.

The note left for his wife, Emily Windham, described a lengthy illness and current job tension as the reason for suicide. The victim worked as a mail order clerk for a Columbus shoe firm.

According to neighbors, the Windhams had no children. They said Windham suffered a heart attack about two years ago and apparently had not fully recovered.

WINDHAM was born Oct. 18, 1902, in Belle Center, O., the son of George W. and Laura Covington Windham. The body was brought to the Defenbaugh Funeral Home, then removed to the Maeder-Quint Home in Columbus where arrangements will be completed.

Sheriff Radcliff said the Windham's car was stuck in the soft mud near Darby Creek. The sheriff commended the efforts of Good and Warren to revive the man.

Man Gets Aid for Ailing Wife; Death Takes Both

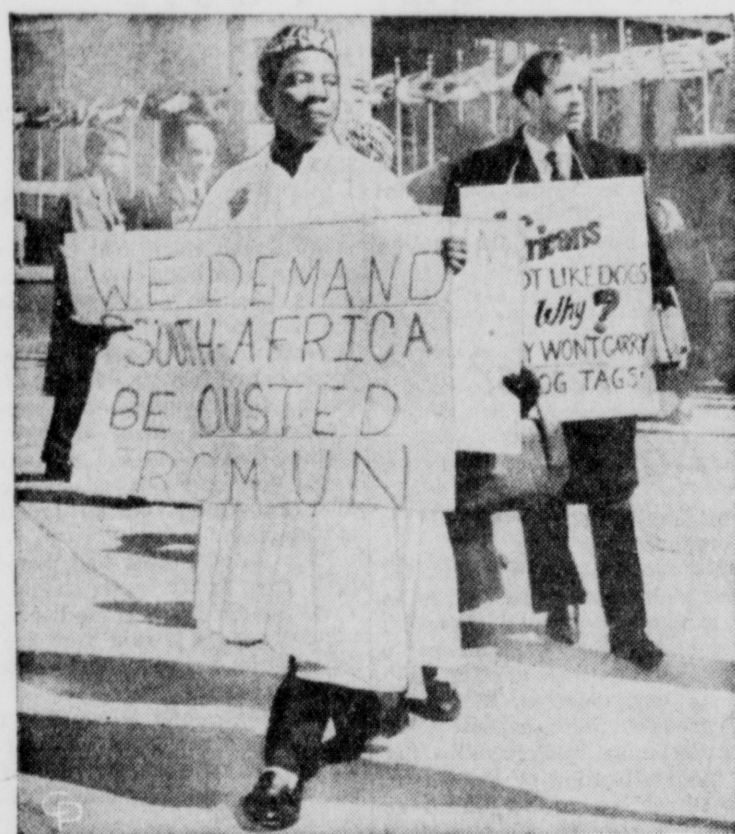

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Henry Bach, 75, rushed over to a neighbor Sunday and said, "my wife is very ill."

Four persons hurried to the Bach home and found Bessie Bach, 70, gasping for breath.

As they tried to help her, Bach dropped dead behind them.

When they turned back to Mrs. Bach, she was dead, too.

Both deaths were attributed to heart attacks.

Weekend Accidents in Ohio Prove Fatal to 17 Persons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 17 persons died in Ohio accidents last weekend. Traffic claimed eight lives, fire killed five and miscellaneous mishaps were fatal to four others.

A triple-fatal fire—killing three small children in Mesopotamia (Trumbull County) — And three double-fatalities were recorded. Two of the latter were on the highways—near Waverly where a rural truck crashed and at Columbus where two autos collided—while the third was a double drowning when a boat capsized in the Little Miami River near Cincinnati.

The mayor of Marysville, James F. Easton, 50, and his wife were the victims in the crash on the outskirts of Columbus.

Sunday's traffic toll was somewhat surprisingly low in view of the mass exodus to the highways that expectable with the advent of the season's first "Sunday driving" weather.

Is Mysticdale A Missing Ohio Town?

COLUMBUS (AP) — Efforts of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown to locate a community in Ohio formerly known as Mysticdale still leaves the answer a mystery.

Brown's interest in the matter was enlisted by Columbus Chief of Police George W. Scholer who received a letter from Mrs. Maude Devonna Campe Park, of Utica, N.Y., who believes she may have had relatives in Ohio.

Correspondence from Mrs. Park, who was born May 1, 1871, the daughter of Charles Joseph Campe and Annie Belle Finley Campe, reveals that visitors have told her that her ancestors had real estate in this town in Ohio, believed to be near Columbus.

Brown, having exhausted all research on the subject, is hoping someone may shed some light on the town described by Mrs. Campe as follows: "The main street was known as Porter Avenue, which continues over the county line, the road leading straight into Columbus 14 miles distant. There was a police station, courthouse, postoffice, hospital, Presbyterian church—all in close proximity to Porter Avenue. There was a Park called Darian Park in which stood a statue of a citizen called Gregory Darian. On the eastern border of the town was a hamlet called 'The Lick'."

Those who have aided Brown in the search, including the Ohio Historical Society, join in the thought that such a town or city may have existed or still exists in some other state but the Columbus angle has them intrigued.

The survey by The Associated Press covers the period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday. The fatalities:

Friday Night
Lonzo W. Campbell, 31, Hillsboro, in a one-car crash on Ohio 138 five miles southwest of Greenfield.

Kenneth Carpenter 23, Cleves, thrown from his car when it grazed a telephone pole on the Cleves - Warsaw Pike in western Hamilton County.

Saturday
David Hammons, 4, and his sisters, Mary 2½, and Cathy, 1½, in a fire that swept a two-story frame house at Mesopotamia (Trumbull County).

Wilkie Woodruff, 56, and David Worley, 12, both of Rt. 2 Waverly, when the truck in which they were riding left Ohio 220, west of Waverly, and overturned in a field.

Gerald J. Scavinsky, 19, Maple Heights, when his car left Bradley Road in Cleveland and struck a utility pole.

Sunday
James F. Easton, 50, mayor of Marysville and his wife, Alice, 47, in a two-car collision at the intersection of U.S. 33 and Lane Avenue in Columbus.

Lucian L. Renaut Jr., 21, Miami Shores, Fla., when his car collided with the rear of another auto on U.S. 24 west of Defiance.

William Faust, 45, Cincinnati, burned to death in an apartment house fire there.

Roland Weiskittel, 23, Olmsted Falls, and John Hiryok, 22, Warren, students studying to be Jesuit lay brothers, drowned in the Little Miami River in eastern Hamilton County when their boat capsized.

William Rhoads, 33, Cincinnati, in a fall down a flight of stairs at a Cincinnati tavern.

James J. Zielinski, 63, Cleveland asphyxiated in a fire in his room.

Donna M. Rectenwald, 8 months, Maumee, who strangled when her head got caught between the slats of her crib.

Steer Trapped In Bathtub
YOUNGSTOWN Ohio (AP) — A towing company was called Sunday to pull a steer from a bathtub. It happened on the farm of Frank Braddock, on Ohio 90 near Petersburg, south of here.

Braddock found the 1,000-pound hereford steer trapped on its back in a bathtub, which is used as a watering trough in the barn. He tried to free the animal with a tractor and rope, but the rope broke.

The farmer then called a towing company at Poland for help. The steer suffered no ill effects from its experience. It was not determined how it got in the tub.

Truck Skids Into Path of Family Sedan

Mrs. Gallagher Third Fatality In County in '60

Mrs. Olma Gallagher, about 57, Chillicothe, was killed in a head-on truck-car crash at Routes 56 and 104 about noon today.

In "critical" condition at Berger Hospital is her husband, Wayne William Gallagher, about 71, of Chillicothe.

Mrs. Gallagher apparently was killed by head injuries. The driver of the truck was Larry Richard Dyer, 25, Chillicothe. A third car, at the scene at the time of the accident was driven by Jay Creamer, 37, Orient.

According to the State Patrol and the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department the Gallagher automobile was headed north on Route 104 when it was struck on the left side by the tractor driven by Dyer.

THE PATROL said Dyer was headed south and applied his brakes when he thought the Creamer auto, headed east on Route 56, was not going to stop at the Routes 104-56 intersection.

Dyer's truck skidded into the northbound lane and struck the Gallagher auto almost head on. The right front of Dyer's tractor was extensively damaged.

Irony of the accident is that the Creamer auto stopped and was not involved in the accident.

Dyer was not injured.

He was driving a truck cab, minus the trailer, owned by Kenneth Moody Trucking, Chillicothe.

Today's crash marked the third traffic death on Pickaway County highways for 1960. All three killed have been from the Chillicothe community.

On January 10 Mrs. Addie L. Scanlon was killed in a crash in Tarlton. Last Monday Virgil Ogan died of injuries suffered in a crash on Route 23 south of here on March 12.

Tragic Life Is Ended by Tragic Death
CLEVELAND (AP) — In 1931 James J. Zielinski's wife, Martha, died of a heart attack at 22, leaving him with three sons and two daughters.

His son Eugene drowned in a YMCA swimming pool at age 10. A few months later his son James, 12, was drowned in a Cuyahoga Heights pond where he was swimming with friends.

In 1958 Zielinski's third and last son, John, then 27, was suffocated by a faulty heater in a tourist cabin at Windsor, Ohio.

A second marriage for Zielinski ended in divorce and about two years ago he lost his job as maintenance man at a brewery. He had been getting along on odd jobs and living in a single room atop a garage behind the house here in which his 90-year-old mother lived with his brother, Eugene.

Sunday Zielinski, 63, was suffocated in a fire in the cramped quarters where he chose to isolate himself and where he had no electricity and used a coal stove for heating.

Apartment Burglarized
CLEVELAND (AP) — Thieves carted furs, cash and jewelry making up a total haul well in excess of $5,000 from two apartments in Shaker Towers Sunday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probes took credit today for preventing $300,000 in Teamster money from being spent on a 1959 plot to smuggle arms to Cuba and the Dominican Republic.

In a report, they singled out as principals in the "plot" Louis (Babe) Triscaro, president of Cleveland Teamster Local 436, and three other men.

Triscaro and the others, said the report, "were involved at various stages in the bizarre plot to use surplus U. S. planes to smuggle arms to the Caribbean area, which was nipped in the bud by U. S. customs agents."

"The committee is satisfied that its active interest in these developments was all that prevented another $300,000 of Teamster funds from being committed to the financing of this venture."

Names along with Triscaro were Benjamin Dranow of Miami; S.

George Burris, a New York accountant and his son, Herbert R. Burris, a New York lawyer.

The report said the plan—never consummated—was to sell planes and arms to Cuba shortly after Fidel Castro took over and to the Dominican Republic.

The report claimed Triscaro was in communication with Teamsters President James R. Hoffa during arrangements.

Elsewhere in the report, the committee reviewed the activities of Ohio Teamsters President William Presser, recently convicted of contempt of Congress, and former Sen. George H. Bender (R-Dominican Republic).

The senators noted that Hoffa named Bender, in August 1958, chairman of an antiracketeering commission within the Teamsters.

"Ten months later, Bender was before the committee as a voluntary witness and admitted that nothing has been done although he does have 'some recommendations' the report said.

"It also appears in the record that the commission has not even held a meeting since December 1958."

Bender quit his $250 - a-day Teamster job, later cut to $125—early this year without making public any recommendations or report.

He has since become a candidate for candidate-at-large to the GOP National Convention, running against the organization slate.

"The committee has no confidence that this Hoffa-inspired commission will accomplish anything in the way of purging criminals and racketeers from their positions of power at all levels of the Teamster organization," the report said.

"The committee regards it as nothing more than expensive window dressing for which thousands of dollars of Teamster money already has been spent."

Crime Group's Plot Is Bared

Dem Probers Urge Tough Police Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor-Management Committee charged today a "crime syndicate" is extending sinister and mounting power across the nation in a plot to rule the economy.

The committee's four Democratic members called for creation of a vast new federal police intelligence agency to crush the scheme.

The four Republican members vigorously opposed that proposal, contending it smacked too strongly of the national secret police idea.

They said it could lead to grave abuse of innocent persons; that it might itself become a handy aid to corrupt officials in league with the underworld, and might actually impede the Justice Department's current war on crime.

The bipartisan committee was unanimous, however, in findings that:

1. "The grip of hoodlums and racketeers on the American economy continues to grow."

2. James R. Hoffa, international president of the Teamsters Union, is an ally of some of the mobsters the report denounced.

3. Alliance with corrupt labor leaders is a major tool used to further the alleged conspiracy.

Unanimously, the eight senators said some congressional committee should wage a continuing search for better means to cope with the menace of gangster rule they contend their own inquiry has uncovered.

Rogers Hinted As Veep on Nixon Ticket

WASHINGTON (AP) —The impression is growing among Republicans that Vice President Richard M. Nixon may tap Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers for second place on the GOP ticket.

Rogers who has worked closely with Nixon as one of his intimate advisers, is 46 years old, personable and vigorous. He hails from New York.

When Rogers' record as a civil rights advocate is added to these attributes of age, ability and geography, some of Nixon's friends think they total up to just what the Republicans are looking for in the way of a vice presidential candidate.

This presupposes that New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—who could have it if he wanted it—means it when he says he won't take second place on the ticket. The Nixon camp thinks he does mean it.

Whatever his own thoughts about a running mate, Nixon isn't expressing them at this point. One good reason is that he seems to have no intention of picking any of several available men until he gets a look at the Democratic ticket.

If the Democrats should nominate Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), Rogers' chances for second place on the GOP ticket would be likely to boom because of his relative youth and eastern roots. They would not be hurt, either, if Kennedy were to become the Democratic vice presidential nominee.

2 Jesuits Drown in Boat Mishap

CINCINNATI (AP) — Drogging of the Little Miami River was resumed early today for the bodies of two brothers of the Milford Novitiate, who drowned Sunday when their boat upset. The Catholic novitiate is 16 miles northeast of Cincinnati.

The Rev. Paul Allen, S. J., rector identified the victims as Brother Roland Weiskittel, S. J., 23, Olmsted Falls, near Cleveland, and Brother John Hiryok, N. S. J., 22, Warren, Ohio.

A third man in the boat, Brother Richard Hittle, S. J., 21, Warren, Ohio, swam to shore.

The accident occurred near the home of Leroy Olson, who said the boat overturned in water where the current is swift.

Father Allen said Brother Hiryok was knocked from the boat by tree limbs extending over the water. He was able to stand in the shallow water, but when the other brothers tried to pull him back into the boat, it capsized.

The reason: Not enough sap and too much snow.

Originally the festival was scheduled for next weekend April 1-2-3.

Officials said the accumulation of snow during March—waist high and chest high in some places—has prevented farmers from getting the sap buckets out.

Midwest Democrat Chiefs Uncertain about Nominee

DETROIT (AP) — Midwestern Democratic leaders with battle banners flying scattered today from a weekend conference that left the nation's heartland wide open territory in the tussle for the party presidential nomination.

They were ready to take on Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the upcoming campaign against the GOP and their own Southern colleagues on the blazing civil rights issue. But for the most part they were unwilling as yet to commit themselves on a Democratic presidential candidate.

Sens. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts came to the 14-state conference courting support for the nomination. All are top-flight contenders, all got negative results and all went away with no important gains—or losses.

But the three - day rally did touch off sparks that could ignite another one of those roaring North-South feuds at the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles next July.

There were friendly words for Southern Democrats and disavowals of any intent to drive them into bolting the party. Still, the conference launched without a dissenting voice a drive for a platform plank on civil rights that convention delegates from Dixie couldn't possibly accept.

The Midwestern leaders approved and recommended to the convention a pledge to throw the full power of the White House and Congress behind guarantees to all Americans of equality in voting, schooling, housing and eating at lunch counters.

National Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler, who often rubs Southerners — and others — the wrong way, gave the whole performance unstinting support. Butler also informally invited loyal Southern Democrats to pick their own delegates to the Los Angeles convention to challenge any rebels who refuse to back the party nominee.

The trio of presidential aspirants had no part in putting across a civil rights proposal packed with political TNT. They had only oratorical roles at the conference, and again at a rally sponsored by the United Auto Workers Union.

JAMES R. HOFFA

This unanimous declaration: "From this point on, the fate and future of James R. Hoffa rest with the executive and judicial branches of the government, the monitors (a court appointed group created to try to police the Teamsters) and inevitably with his own members."

"The decent elements of organized labor have hung a pariah's label" on Hoffa, the committee said, renewing its 1958 finding that he should be ousted.

"If Hoffa is successful in combating the combined weight of the U.S. government and public opinion, the cause of decent unionism (Continued on Page 2)

Heavy Snowfalls Cause Maple Festival Delay

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—The annual Chardon Maple Festival has been postponed to the weekend of April 22-23-24.

The reason: Not enough sap and too much snow.

Originally the festival was scheduled for next weekend April 1-2-3.

Officials said the accumulation of snow during March—waist high and chest high in some places—has prevented farmers from getting the sap buckets out.

Truck Skids Into Path of Family Sedan

Mrs. Gallagher Third Fatality In County in '60

Mrs. Olga Gallagher, about 57, Chillicothe, was killed in a head-on truck-car crash at Routes 56 and 104 about noon today.

In "critical" condition at Berger Hospital is her husband, Wayne William Gallagher, about 71, of Chillicothe.

Mrs. Gallagher apparently was killed by head injuries.

The driver of the truck was Larry Richard Dyer, 25, Chillicothe. A third car, at the scene at the time of the accident was driven by Jay Creamer, 37, Orient.

According to the State Patrol and the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department the Gallagher automobile was headed north on Route 104 when it was struck on the left side by the tractor driven by Dyer.

A second marriage for Zielinski ended in divorce and about two years ago he lost his job as maintenance man at a brewery. He had been getting along on odd jobs and living in a single room atop a garage behind the house here in which his 90-year-old mother lived with his brother, Eugene.

West Offers 10-Point Plan For Total Control of Arms

GENEVA (AP) — The Western powers today introduced a detailed plan for a vast organization to control every step of a world disarmament treaty.

Italian delegate Francesco Cavaletti introduced the plan at the 10-nation disarmament conference on behalf of the five Western powers.

Cavaletti said the proposed International Disarmament Organization must have far wider functions than a mere check on agreed arms cuts. His plan called for permanent surveillance of national military budgets and military maneuvers, as well as control of all satellite and missile launchings.

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin made no comment. Instead, he again demanded that the conference begin by agreeing on "general and complete disarmament" and deal with control provisions later.

Western officials said today's session of the conference thus produced no progress, but the relaxed atmosphere of the first two weeks of the conference was maintained.

Cavaletti defined the functions of the IDO in 10 basic points.

He said IDO should:

1. Receive advance notice on launching of any satellite and detailed reports on the satellite's course.
2. Obtain detailed information on existing level of armed forces and conventional armaments.
3. Verify any agreed limitations or reductions.
4. Collect and verify information on national budgets of all countries, including total amounts devoted to military purposes and percentage of military expenditure in total government outlay.
5. Install a worldwide system for control of artificial satellites capable of carrying weapons of mass destruction.
6. Receive prior notice on

Antioch President OKs Old Age Aid

CLEVELAND (AP) — The time has come to decide "whether we are going to honor old age or discard ourselves at the end of economic usefulness," the president of Antioch College told the Consumers League of Ohio here Friday.

Dr. James P. Dixon Jr. said extension of social security is the "only appropriate vehicle to assist the older person, although at it's best it provides a narrow base to start." The increased need for health services after 65 is a major problem, he said.

"In the main, there are far too many attics and third-floor rooms where we are trying to render humanitarian services" for the aged, Nixon said.

DiSalle Mailing Kennedy Literature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is mailing about 4,000 letters to leading Democrats throughout the nation in support of U.S. Sen. John F. Kennedy for president.

The Ohio governor said the letter calls attention to Kennedy's increasing strength as a potential presidential nominee. The letter cites various polls in support of Kennedy's front-running position.

DiSalle has entered a slate of national convention delegate candidates in Ohio's May 3 primary pledged to the Massachusetts senator. He has expressed confidence that Kennedy would win nomination at the convention.

The governor explained that the letters were prepared for him by Kennedy's office.

Ike, Mac Ready for Talks On Ban for Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan headed for the U.S. chieftain's mountain retreat today to work out a compromise offer to Russia for banning nuclear weapons tests.

During the two or three days they will spend together at Camp David, Md., the two allied leaders will also make a pre-summit review of relations with the Soviet Union. They may lay down some new guidelines for development of proposals to be put before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at the Big Four summit meeting at Paris beginning May 16.

Before flying with Eisenhower to Camp David this afternoon, Macmillan was scheduled to confer with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter at the British Embassy.

The U.S. and British positions on the Soviet Union's latest test control plan were said to be very similar with both sides now favoring a positive counter-proposal.

The urgent problem before the President and prime minister is to shape a reply to a Soviet proposition for banning all nuclear weapons tests—most of them by formal treaty and the remainder, small underground tests, by common agreement on an indefinite moratorium.

Eisenhower and Macmillan may agree to approve a moratorium on the small underground blasts, but to impose a time limit of one or two years.

Without specific inspection provisions covering the smaller blasts, many officials in the Eisenhower administration also have felt that the proposed moratorium would create a grave risk of Soviet cheating in the development of nuclear weapons. Some reportedly favored rejecting the Soviet proposition.

But the British government and many officials in the State Department here feared the impact on world opinion of a negative reply from the United States. They saw grave danger of a split with Britain.

President Eisenhower, formally opening the conference Sunday night, told the delegates to beware of the tendency to generalize pessimistically about the youth of this country.

Bids Asked on 8 Cemetery Removals

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Huntington District U.S. Engineers asked bids today for the removal of 161 bodies from eight cemeteries in the area of the Dillon Reservoir project on the Licking River in Muskingum County, Ohio.

All are in Hopewell and Licking Twp.

The bodies will be reinterred at the Timber Run Cemetery, Hopewell Twp., and Irville Cemetery, Licking Twp.

The work, estimated to cost about $25,000, also will require removal and reinstallation of monuments, grave markers and plaques trees and shrubs and landscaping.

The bids will be opened on or about May 3.

Plastic Ticker Betrays His Love Interest

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP)—The plastic valve in Norman Allen's heart echoed his love life.

When he danced with a pretty girl, its ticks could be heard across the room.

"If I'm excited, it gets very loud and fast," explained the 27-year-old clerk whose friends call him "Norman the Ticker."

"Sometimes," he said, "it seems to keep time to tunes on the radio, especially the cha-cha."

Allen got the plastic valve in an operation to correct a heart ailment four years ago. Without it, he probably would have died.

"Now I lead a completely normal life and sometimes even play football," Allen told a reporter.

"This constant tick-tock is embarrassing though, especially when you're out with a girl."

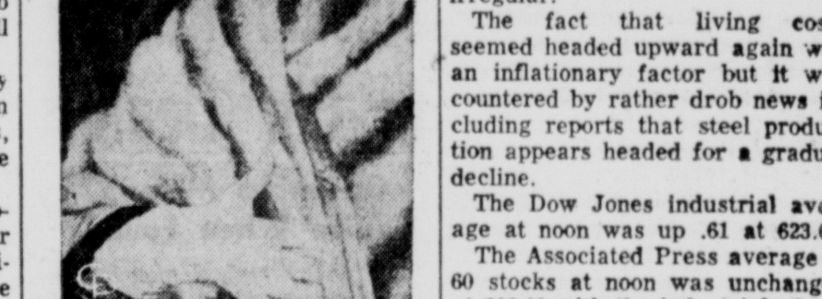

When he goes to the movies, people start looking for the hidden clock.

But three months ago Allen met a girl who understands the message of his tick-tock heart.

Now he's going to ask his doctor if it's all right for him to get married.

Doctors have told Allen they could replace his plastic valve with a silent American type. He turned them down.

"Without this ticker, I'd just be a nobody again," he said.

West Offers 10-Point Plan For Total Control of Arms

GENEVA (AP) — The Western powers today introduced a detailed plan for a vast organization to control every step of a world disarmament treaty.

Italian delegate Francesco Cavaletti introduced the plan at the 10-nation disarmament conference on behalf of the five Western powers.

Cavaletti said the proposed International Disarmament Organization must have far wider functions than a mere check on agreed arms cuts. His plan called for permanent surveillance of national military budgets and military maneuvers, as well as control of all satellite and missile launchings.

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin made no comment. Instead, he again demanded that the conference begin by agreeing on "general and complete disarmament" and deal with control provisions later.

Western officials said today's session of the conference thus produced no progress, but the relaxed atmosphere of the first two weeks of the conference was maintained. Cavaletti defined the functions of the IDO in 10 basic points.

He said IDO should:

1. Receive advance notice on launching of any satellite and detailed reports on the satellite's course.

2. Obtain detailed information on existing level of armed forces and conventional armaments.

3. Verify any agreed limitations or reductions.

4. Collect and verify information on national budgets of all countries, including total amounts devoted to military purposes and percentage of military expenditure in total government outlay.

5. Install a worldwide system for control of artificial satellites capable of carrying weapons of mass destruction.

6. Receive prior notice on

Antioch President OKs Old Age Aid

CLEVELAND (AP) — The time has come to decide "whether we are going to honor old age or discard ourselves at the end of economic usefulness," the president of Antioch College told the Consumers League of Ohio here Friday.

Dr. James P. Dixon Jr. said extension of social security is the "only appropriate vehicle to assist the older person, although at its best it provides a narrow base to start." The increased need for health services after 65 is a major problem, he said.

"In the main, there are far too many attics and third-floor rooms where we are trying to render humanitarian services" for the aged, Nixon said.

DiSalle Mailing

Kennedy Literature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is mailing about 4,000 letters to leading Democrats throughout the nation in support of U.S. Sen. John F. Kennedy for president.

The Ohio governor said the letter calls attention to Kennedy's increasing strength as a potential presidential nominee. The letter cites various polls in support of Kennedy's front-running position.

DiSalle has entered a slate of national convention delegate candidates in Ohio's May 3 primary pledged to the Massachusetts senator. He has expressed confidence that Kennedy would win nomination at the convention.

The governor explained that the letters were prepared for him by Kennedy's office.

Anything Wrong with Kids? If So, Blame Only Adults

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there is anything wrong with the younger generation, the adults of this country have only themselves to blame.

That sentiment, expressed by speaker after speaker, set the tone today as 7,000 delegates to the White House Conference on Children and Youth swung into their first full day's work. The meetings continue through Friday.

The cure for what ails youth, they said, must be found by treating the moral sickness of their elders.

"The basic problem of the young is not complicated, it is the apathy and perfdy and poor examples of the adult generations," said Miriam D. Hanks of Salt Lake City, an elder of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Elder Hanks' theme, in a speech prepared for one of the five assemblies during the day's activities, was echoed by Prof. Abraham Heschel of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York.

"We, the grownups have delegated our moral responsibility to the schools, the social agencies, or community funds," he said in his prepared remarks.

"We have time for hobbies, for watching baseball; we have no time to help the needy, to sustain the sick, to offer companionship to the lonely, no time to offer guidance to our children. What we need are not more school buildings and more playgrounds but also the restoration of the home, the resurrection of the parent as a person worthy of being revered as an example of devotion to responsibility."

President Eisenhower, formally opening the conference Sunday night, told the delegates to beware of the tendency to generalize pessimistically about the youth of this country.

1960 Profits Reports Show Mostly Gains

Steels, Autos Likely To Be Well Ahead Of 1959 Figures

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The first profit reports of 1960 mostly show gains over the early weeks of 1959. Some industries in the much larger number of companies that next month will be reporting their first quarter earnings are expected to show even better increases.

These include steel and autos. The slowdown in these and certain other lines that began about half-way through the quarter seems unlikely to have whittled too deeply into the big gains in the first weeks of the year.

Banks seem assured of substantial profit gains, thanks largely to higher interest rates and to a demand for loans that tops the year ago figure.

But stock traders who have turned bearish since a profit down trend will appear in a sizable number of other industries even in the first quarter and may spread into more of the economy in the second. They cite the slowdown in ordering to build up inventories and less than expected sales volume for some products, as well as a slight dip in total industrial output.

So far 60 corporations have reported their earnings after taxes for the first three months of their fiscal years, which started a month or two before 1959 ended.

Two thirds of these show increased profits over the same period of the previous year. Combined the 60 report earnings of $63,666,000, a gain of 24.2 per cent over the $51,252,000 the same companies made in their 1959 first quarter.

The casualties are fewer, too. Eight of the 60 operated at a loss this time, compared with 15 in the previous year.

Along with these early profit reports, dividend payment totals so far this year have been topping the year ago figures.

All of this runs counter to the stock market trend, which with some ups and downs this year finds today's prices of many stocks well below the first of the year.

But the bearish minded have these points to make:

The early birds reporting now are including their figures for the big December and January industrial spurt that followed the ending of the steel strike. Also, these reports can't reflect the business slowdown on some fronts that began showing late in February and during March.

For many of the companies included in the 60, the comparison this year was with a poor showing in early 1959 when the recession was still being overcome.

And the early reports have to be considered company by company, due to the spotty condition of industry as a whole, both in early 1959 and early 1960.

County Red Cross Salutes Volunteers

The Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross next week will mail more than 150 cards of appreciation to persons and groups that have given excessive support to the organization.

Throughout the United States, March is Red Cross month when a majority of the chapters conduct their fund raising and membership campaigns.

Locally, the Red Cross chapter is a participating organization of the Pickaway County Community Fund and does not conduct an individual drive.

Instead, it is using this month to express its appreciation for the assistance given it throughout the year.

RED CROSS officials said today that many persons have assisted it indirectly in working in the Community Fund and in the background of its many services.

Among these groups and individuals are the Girl Scouts, who assisted in the Water Safety program and devoted time as volunteer Candy Stripe girls at Berger Hospital; Nurses who assisted during the visits of the Bloodmobile and manned the Red Cross hospital tent during the County Fair;

Many granges, church groups and 4-H clubs who made aprons and provided other gifts for the Veterans Hospital Gift Shop, Chillicothe, plus providing food and operating the canteen at the Bloodmobile visits.

A number of women's clubs have taken charge of the registration desk and have typed file cards for the Bloodmobile.

Mary Had a Little Lamb; So Did Clive Barrett, 35

LONDON (AP)—Mary had a little lamb. So did Clive Barrett, aged 35.

The fleece of Mary's lamb was white as snow. Clive's lamb had fleece as black as ink.

Mary's little lamb followed her to school one day. Clive's followed him to the neighborhood saloon.

The sight of Mary's little lamb made the school children laugh and play. The sight of Clive's caused an uproar among the other drinking men.

In Mary's case, the teacher gave the little lamb the old heave-ho, but it waited outside the school, and Mary and the lamb went home together.

Clive and his lamb also wound up out in the street, but they never did get home. They wound up in jail.

In the magistrate's court of the fishing city of Hull Friday, police constable Gregor MacRae related:

"I saw Barrett staggering around in a main street with a black lamb frisking about and following him."

"I told him to go home, but he persisted in arguing with a man in the crowd. So I took him into custody on a charge of being drunk and disorderly."

"He was drunk in charge of a lamb" asked the judge.

"Yes, sir."

The judge asked Barrett for his version.

"I bought the lamb a week ago," said Barrett. "I had taken it out for a drink. I mean, I went for a drink and took the lamb with me."

"What made me angry was that one of the men in the crowd said I had stolen it. I didn't at all. I bought it at a cattle market and it's mine. It follows me like a little dog."

The judge said that since no blows were actually struck he was inclined to take a lenient view. He fined Barrett 5 shillings (70 cents).

The lamb, which had spent the night in a cell next to Barrett's, was restored to its owner. And off for home went Barrett, followed by his lamb.

State Hospital Bills Readied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes reports the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction's Bureau of Support so far has certified $840,321 for collection from relatives of state hospital patients.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle recently ordered collections on unpaid bills for state care of mental patients dating back to 1900. They totaled about a half billion dollars but most of them were termed uncollectable.

Certifications for mental health care from about 260,000 files will be made as soon as possible, administration officials said.

All unpaid accounts certified for collection by the state totaled $7,079,312 on March 1, Rhodes said Friday. That compared with $6,111,237 a year ago.

Uniform Ohio Court System Under Study

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — The chairman of a legislative committee studying Ohio's judiciary system said the group may recommend to the 1961 Legislature a uniform system for operating courts in Ohio.

The chairman, Rep. Michael A. Sweeney (D-Cuyahoga), said the committee, an arm of the fact-finding Legislative Service Commission, has sent questionnaires to 163 common pleas judges and their court clerks for information about their operations.

"We may have difficulty convincing the judges to adopt some uniformity," Sweeney said. "It appears that each judge is an island unto himself."

He said judges run their own courts, and methods vary from county to county. More uniformity might help smooth out judicial work that has bogged down in some areas, he added.

Sweeney said he hopes answers to the questionnaires will be available for the committee's next meeting in May.

Finding Sources of Water

Expanding populations and a shortage of food and water supplies in some areas of the world created by too many people in too small an area attract more and more attention from scientists who see the problem of space as one of the primary worries of the future. Although the countries of the Western Hemisphere will be among the last to feel the pinch, growing pains already underway here point to the inevitability that someday shortages of fundamental natural resources will become serious hardships.

Food and water are the two ingredients necessary to life which will probably be affected first by overpopulation. It is so in the two most populous countries of the present era — China and India — which are already suffering from congestion and lack of resources to sustain their masses. Agriculture has made gigantic strides in the direction of efficient production from limited acreage. Little of the world has availed itself of the advanced technique common in the United States and other advanced nations, but the likelihood that starvation will become a worldwide problem is remote.

Thirst may come first. Science has not produced the improvements in water supplies it has in food production. Despite the fact most of this planet's surface is composed of water, humans have difficulty finding enough for their consumption. Pollution of fresh water and failure in attempts to economically desalt brine and sea water have combined to make water reservoirs a constant problem, ripe for depletion by prolonged drought.

A new method of locating underground water supplies announced by a U. S. Senate Committee on National Water Resources, may remove one of the deterrents to increasing supplies. Scientists found that tritium, accidentally injected into underground water streams through atmosphere contaminated by nuclear bomb tests, is an easily traceable element which might make it possible to uncover large sources of hidden water.

Continuing investigations are now underway by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission in New Mexico, Wisconsin and Jersey in an effort to plot the paths of hidden waterways. As a result of these research projects and because of one by-product of man's intensive search for knowledge of nuclear power, the world's water buckets may be kept filled for generations to come.

About the only thing that can cheat some women out of the last word, is an echo.

Tribulations of a Fat Man

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — "Well, the fat man's back," my wife announced at breakfast.

"Who?" I asked, reaching for a second piece of toast.

"You!" she said. I dropped the toast as if my wrist had been rapped by a crowbar.

Then I went in to the bathroom scale. It agreed with my wife. The figure read—205.

"Better get that thing adjusted," I told Frances. "It's gone crazy."

"You're the one that needs adjusting," she replied. "When are you going to start?"

Well, I did the only manly thing possible in the situation. I went into the kitchen, threw myself on the floor, put my arms around the refrigerator and began to whimper.

"Cut off my arms and legs," I pleaded. "Send me to jail. Put me to work on a road gang. But don't make me go on another diet. I can't take it again."

"You'll have to," said Frances firmly. "Last summer you took off

40 pounds, and since September you've put 30 pounds back on."

"Maybe heaven meant for me to go through life a fat man," I argued.

"Maybe so," answered my wife. "But not in this house. You're so heavy you're breaking down the furniture."

If I had the courage, I'd pack a lunch—a big one too!—and run away from home. But I know I won't. I haven't got the character to stay thin, and I haven't got the sturdy independence of mind to remain fat and enjoy it.

What's so socially objectionable about a human being who looks happy and well-fed?

When you get right down to it, fat people keep society in balance. They pay their bills on time. They are placid and considerate of others. They give skinny people something to feel superior to. They rarely break laws as they don't have the energy to do things that are illegal. Did you ever hear of a fat assassin?

The only injustice the fat man does is to his pallbearers — and he does that only once.

There is a theory that too much food causes fat. I'm not so sure. I can gain weight merely by reading about food in a diet book—or looking at pictures of food. Can't you?

I have a different theory about fat. I think that it is probably just viruses, such as the common cold.

According to my theory, fat is never really destroyed. When one fellow gets rid of fat, it merely changes into atoms. These atoms then float through the air and settle on the first fat-susceptible fellow they meet.

The atoms pile on top of one another, silently and invisibly, and he gains weight. Soon, to his consternation, he is fat—but not from overeating. Oh, no. He didn't make himself fat. He merely caught fat, just as if he might catch pneumonia.

All right, officer, give me a gramham cracker—and I'll come along quietly.

Acheson's View Was Sound

By George Sokolsky

No Presidential candidate ever announces the composition of his Cabinet during the campaign. That is always a grave secret. A Frenchman recently said to me: "Your Presidential election is not only for Americans; it is for all as well; it is for all the free world. We need to know where we stand."

In most European countries, it is always known how Cabinet offices are to be filled. In Great Britain, the ectoplasmic Cabinet of the British Labour Party is a body which would take office if that party were elected. The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs would then be Aneurin Bevan as things stand today. If, on the other hand, Richard Nixon were elected President, who would be his Secretary of State?

We do not know. It is generally suggested that Thomas E. Dewey, former Governor of New York State and twice a Presidential candidate would be very suitable. It is questionable if Dewey would sacrifice his lucrative private law practice.

The Democrats have a number of prospective Secretaries of State. For instance, John Kennedy's adviser on foreign affairs is Chester Bowles, who has been in various public offices since he went out of the advertising business and who was our Ambassador to India. His concept of the East of Asia is strongly influenced by Nehru, for whom Bowles has great admiration. Nehru's attitude toward Red China, however, has proved to be wrong. The Red Chinese seeing Tibet, invading peripheral states on the basis of the Chien Lung Line and establishing a Communist state in Keraia. Bowles has not publicly revised any of his pronouncements on Asiatic affairs despite Red Chinese imperialism.

There is considerable talk of a return of Dean Acheson to the office of Secretary of State. Acheson's public pronouncements in recent years are so different from what they were when he was in office, that one is forced to revise one's judgment of the man. Certainly of the names mentioned for this office none receives such favorable response as Acheson at this time.

It is often suggested that Adlai Stevenson might follow the example of William Jennings Bryan and accept the office of Secretary of State. Certainly neither Lyndon Johnson nor Stuart Symington would want to be bound by Stevenson's doctrinaire positions. If Great Britain were the only country or the most significant country with which we had to deal at this time, Stevenson would make an excellent Ambassador to the Court of St. James's.

Admiral Charles M. Cooke sent a circular letter to editors in which he said:

"During the four year period, 1946 to 1950, (for a period as Under Secretary) Secretary Acheson postponed decision as to what to do about China, under the plea of 'waiting for the dust to settle.' Rude awakening came when we stumbled (blinded by his kind of 'dust') over the brink of the abyss of the Korean War. The 'dust' was wiped from the Secretary's eyes with the blood of 140,000 American casualties.

"Later, 1954 to 1958, Dulles, with the eyes unblinded by 'dust' and therefore capable of distinguishing between real and false brinks, could safely steer the Ship of State, undaunted and unaffected by the rising cries of the Communist inspired slogans of 'Brinkmanship.'"

In many ways, the Fabian policy of Dean Acheson saved what is left of Nationalist China. The pressure upon our government was to recognize Red China as soon as the British did (1950). The so-called great experts in foreign affairs, favoring a Europe First policy, generally took the view that the United States should recognize Red China as an act of utter realism. At the time, those of us who felt that the best interests of the United States would be served by maintaining a free Nationalist China on Formosa, criticized Acheson severely.

True, because we did not recognize Red China we suffered the Korean War, but had we immediately recognized Red China, we should have, by now, been completely out of Asia and both Japan and the Philippines could not have avoided becoming satellites of Red China. Nay, it is not beyond reason that without American influence somewhere in the East of Asia, Red China would have been able to move to the Chien Lung Line and beyond it down to the Bay of Bengal.

The pre-world War II isolationists, even the Liberty League, did not anticipate such isolation.

The letter "V" and the letter "U" were identical until separated into separate sounds in the sixteenth century.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN once was asked by a New York firm for information on the financial circumstances of one of his neighbors. He obliged with the following: "I am well acquainted with Mr. — and know his assets."

First of all, he has a wife and baby; together they ought to be worth $50,000 to any man. Secondly, he has an office in which there is a table worth $1.50 and three chairs worth, say $1.00. Last of all, there is in one corner a large rat-hole which will bear looking into. Respy., A. Lincoln."

Oliver Herford, a poet of note in his day, and a pompous, beribboned general were joint guests of honor at a banquet. The hostess suddenly announced, "Mr. Herford here will now compose a poem on the spur of the moment in honor of this auspicious occasion."

"Nothing doing," spluttered Herford. "Have the general fire a cannon."

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's enviable position — of remaining practically speechless while running for the presidency—will soon be coming to an end.

He has been able to stay quiet so far because he has been in a doubly happy spot. He is the only one in sight for the Republican presidential nomination and he has been given President Eisenhower's blessing.

While this carries some advantages they may be more than offset by the problems ahead once the campaign starts next summer.

Here are some of the obvious advantages:

1. Since he seems sure to get the Republican nomination he doesn't, like the Democratic hopefuls, have to scramble for delegates to the convention or wear himself down in state primaries.

2. Because he has been so closely identified with the highly popular Eisenhower, he can hope, but that's all he can do, that voters will have some of the same regard for him.

Here are some of his problems:

He must buck a strong Democratic tide. In the last three elections — 1954-56-58 — the voters showed a clear preference between parties by giving Democrats control of Congress.

The fact that Eisenhower won in 1956, while the voters turned Congress over the Democrats, showed how clearly they were making a distinction between him and his party.

Since Nixon does not have Eisenhower's personal appeal, this next election may be more a matter of choosing between parties than between men.

2. Nixon has conservative Republican support but he will also need liberal Republican and independent votes to win in November. This confronts him with his greatest problem.

He must decide whether to trail along on the Eisenhower record or break out from behind the President's shadow and stand for something on his own.

This has been a very conservative and in some instances a don't-

Finding Sources of Water

Expanding populations and a shortage of food and water supplies in some areas of the world created by too many people in too small an area attract more and more attention from scientists who see the problem of space as one of the primary worries of the future. Although the countries of the Western Hemisphere will be among the last to feel the pinch, growing pains already underway here point to the inevitability that someday shortages of fundamental natural resources will become serious hardships.

Food and water are the two ingredients necessary to life which will probably be affected first by overpopulation. It is so in the two most populous countries of the present era — China and India — which are already suffering from congestion and lack of resources to sustain their masses. Agriculture has made gigantic strides in the direction of efficient production from limited acreage. Little of the world has availed itself of the advanced technique common in the United States and other advanced nations, but the likelihood that starvation will become a worldwide problem is remote.

Thirst may come first. Science has not produced the improvements in water supplies it has in food production. Despite the fact most of this planet's surface is composed of water, humans have difficulty finding enough for their consumption. Pollution of fresh water and failure in attempts to economically desalt brine and sea water have combined to make water reservoirs a constant problem, ripe for depletion by prolonged drought.

A new method of locating underground water supplies announced by a U. S. Senate Committee on National Water Resources, may remove one of the deterrents to increasing supplies. Scientists found that tritium, accidentally injected into underground water streams through atmosphere contaminated by nuclear bomb tests, is an easily traceable element which might make it possible to uncover large sources of hidden water.

Continuing investigations are now underway by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission in New Mexico, Wisconsin and Jersey in an effort to plot the paths of hidden waterways. As a result of these research projects and because of one by-product of man's intensive search for knowledge of nuclear power, the world's water buckets may be kept filled for generations to come.

Tribulations of a Fat Man

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — "Well, the fat man's back," my wife announced at breakfast.

"Who?" I asked, reaching for a second piece of toast.

"You!" she said. "I dropped the toast as if my wrist had been rapped by a crowbar."

Then I went in to the bathroom scale. It agreed with my wife. The figure read—205.

"Better get that thing adjusted," I told Frances. "It's gone crazy."

"You're the one that needs adjusting," she replied. "When are you going to start?"

Well, I did the only manly thing possible in the situation. I went into the kitchen, threw myself on the floor, put my arms around the refrigerator and began to whimper.

"Cut off my arms and legs," I pleaded. "Send me to jail. Put me to work on a road gang. But don't make me go on another diet. I can't take it again."

"You'll have to," said Frances firmly. "Last summer you took off

40 pounds, and since September you've put 30 pounds back on."

"Maybe heaven meant for me to go through life a fat man," I argued.

"Maybe so," answered my wife. "But not in this house. You're so heavy you're breaking down the furniture."

If I had the courage, I'd pack a lunch—a big one too!—and run away from home. But I know I won't. I haven't got the character to stay thin, and I haven't got the sturdy independence of mind to remain fat and enjoy it.

What's so socially objectionable about a human being who looks happy and well-fed?

When you get right down to it, fat people keep society in balance. They pay their bills on time. They are placid and considerate of others. They give skinny people something to feel superior to. They rarely break laws as they don't have the energy to do things that are illegal. Did you ever hear of a fat assassin?

The only injustice the fat man does is to his palbearers — and he does that only once.

There is a theory that too much food causes fat. I'm not so sure. I can gain weight merely by reading about food in a diet book—or looking at pictures of food. Can't you?

I have a different theory about fat. I think that it is probably just viruses, such as the common cold.

According to my theory, fat is never really destroyed. When one fellow gets rid of fat, it merely changes into atoms. These atoms then float through the air and settle on the first fat-susceptible fellow they meet.

The atoms pile on top of one another, silently and invisibly, and he gains weight. Soon, to his consternation, he is fat—but not from overeating. Oh, no. He didn't make himself fat. He merely caught fat, just as if he might catch pneumonia.

All right, officer, give me a gramam cracker—and I'll come along quietly.

Acheson's View Was Sound

By George Sokolsky

No Presidential candidate ever announces the composition of his Cabinet during the campaign. That is always a grave secret. A Frenchman recently said to me: "Your Presidential election is not only for Americans; it is for all as well; it is for all the free world. We need to know where we stand."

In most European countries, it is always known how Cabinet offices are to be filled. In Great Britain, the ectoplasmic Cabinet of the British Labour Party is a body which would take office if that party were elected. The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs would then be Aneurin Bevan as things stand today. If, on the other hand, Richard Nixon were elected President, who would be his Secretary of State?

We do not know. It is generally suggested that Thomas E. Dewey, former Governor of New York State and twice a Presidential candidate would be very suitable. It is questionable if Dewey would sacrifice his lucrative private law practice.

The Democrats have a number of prospective Secretaries of State. For instance, John Kennedy's adviser on foreign affairs is Chester Bowles, who has been in various public offices since he went out of the advertising business and who was our Ambassador to India. His concept of the East of Asia is strongly influenced by Nehru, for whom Bowles has great admiration. Nehru's attitude toward Red China, however, has proved to be wrong. The Red Chinese seeing Tibet, invading peripheral states on the basis of the Chien Lung Line and establishing a Communist state in Kerala, Bowles has not publicly revised any of his pronouncements on Asiatic affairs despite Red Chinese imperialism.

There is considerable talk of a return of Dean Acheson to the office of Secretary of State. Acheson's public pronouncements in recent years are so different from what they were when he was in office, that one is forced to revise one's judgment of the man. Certainly of the names mentioned for this office among the Democrats, none receives such favorable response as Acheson at this time.

It is often suggested that Adlai Stevenson might follow the example of William Jennings Bryan and accept the office of Secretary of State. Certainly neither Lyndon Johnson nor Stuart Symington would want to be bound by Stevenson's doctrinaire positions. If Great Britain were the only country or the most significant country with which we had to deal at this time, Stevenson would make an excellent Ambassador to the Court of St. James's.

Admiral Charles M. Cooke sent a circular letter to editors in which he said:

"During the four year period, 1946 to 1950, (for a period as Under Secretary) Secretary Acheson postponed decision as to what to do about China, under the plea of 'waiting for the dust to settle.' Rude awakening came when we stumbled (blinded by his kind of 'dust') over the brink of the abyss of the Korean War. The 'dust' was wiped from the Secretary's eyes with the blood of 140,000 American casualties.

"Later, 1954 to 1958, Dulles, with the eyes unblinded by 'dust' and therefore capable of distinguishing between real and false brinks, could safely steer the Ship of State, undaunted and unaffected by the rising cries of the Communist inspired slogans of 'Brinkmanship.'"

Okinawa Calls Halt To Animal Battles

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—The local government cracked down today on an Okinawan animal trainer whose fight between a lion and five dogs drew protests from Japan and the United States.

"The government has decided not to approve any more applications for vicious animal fights of this nature," the social affairs director, Shochi Ota said.

The trainer, Choryo Yonaha, had planned to put his lioness against a bull next month.

rock-the-boat administration.

Nixon will be up against a Democrat—and this goes for any of the would-be Democratic candidates in sight—whose views are more liberal than Eisenhower's.

Nixon can choose between being an administration Charley McCarthy or trying to match to some degree the promises of the Democrats. If he gets too liberal he could lose conservative Republican support without winning over the independents.

And, if he goes much beyond Eisenhower's thinking, he may seem to be criticizing the President. So he has to walk nimbly there. He needs Eisenhower's active help in the campaign.

3. Nixon will not be just another Republican candidate running against just another Democratic candidate, neither of them well known. He has been in high office long enough to have established a record of performance by which to be judged. The Democrats will have his record to talk about.

It probably will not be nice talk, since many Democrats seem to hate him for the tactics he used in previous campaigns against them. But the very manner in which he answers the attacks or ignores them will be a fresh yardstick by which the voters can judge him.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

You've Been Had, Grandma

DEAR ABBY: My son and daughter-in-law have three children, all under five years old. All of a sudden they decided to go on a trip. They asked me to keep their children and I was glad to do it.

They left on a Friday and said they'd be home Monday morning. I didn't hear a word from them until the following Friday. I couldn't sleep nights for worrying about what could have happened to them.

They telephoned me on Friday (a week from the day they left) and told me they had been home since TUESDAY! I didn't mind taking care of their kiddies for the entire week, but don't you think they should have called me when they got home? They said it was none of my business when they got home. I think they took advantage of me. I'd like your opinion.

MIXED UP GRANDMA
DEAR GRANDMA: You THINK they took advantage of you? That's the understatement of the year! Their lack of consideration for you—let alone their own children—is disgusting. Don't put yourself in a position to be abused again by these ingrates.

DEAR ABBY: I took my child to the dentist and was asked to wait outside. When the dentist finished, my child told me in great sobs that he wanted me in there with him. I felt like a heel.

The next time we went to the dentist, I was ordered to wait outside again, but when I heard my child gagging and crying I ran in to wipe his tears. The

dentist said very coldly, "GO BACK AND SIT DOWN, MOTHER!"

This upset me and my child. Do you think I should find another dentist?

MANSFIELD
DEAR MANSFIELD: I advise you either to do as your dentist tells you, or to find another dentist.

DEAR ABBY: Thanks to my mother, who is a marvelous seamstress, I have a large and beautiful wardrobe. I am 16 and have two good friends the same age. Both these girls have the same bad trait. They ask to borrow my clothes and they don't return anything until I go after it. Or else if they do bring it back, the zipper is broken, the seams are ripped or the clothes are soiled.

I hate to turn them down because I like them both, but what do you do in a case like this?

WARDROBE IN DANGER
DEAR W.I.D.: The first word a child learns to say is "Mamma"—and the second is "No"! You are too old to holler "Mamma" so you had better learn how to say "No". And say it with a smile.

"What's YOUR problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

When storing woolen garments for the summer, the container with the moth preventives should be placed at the top of the bag or closet so vapors will filter down through garments.

Readings, Songs and Slides Head Willing Workers Meet

Mrs. Sterley Croman, Route 4, entertained members of the Willing Workers Sunday School Class of Pontious EUB Church Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Roy Farmer presided at the meeting which opened with prayer by the Rev. Floyd Adams Jr.

Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Guy Stockman and Mrs. Hael Bowman. The class motto, "Faith, Hope and Charity," great-est of these is charity, was pre-sented by Mrs. Stockman.

"Help Somebody Today" was sung by the group after which Mrs. Bowman gave the Scripture, "Victory Over Sin."

The song "There's a Crown for Your Cross" was sung by the group followed by Mrs. Stockman

New York Trip Slated by Ladies Aid

Plans for a trip to New York by bus highlighted the March meet-ing of the Scioto Chapel Ladies Aid Society of Robtown Thursday at the parish house.

Hostesses were Mrs. Carroll Reid, Mrs. Charles Huston and Mrs. Raymond Holt gave devo-tions.

Members of the spring commit-tee reported on their plans and also a Mother's Day trip was dis-cussed.

At the close of the business ses-sion, Miss Pauline Rose, County Welfare Director, spoke on the his-tory of welfare work and how it operates in Pickaway County. A question and answer period follow-ed.

Mrs. Carroll Reid presented a reading. Door prizes were won by Mrs. Earl Holt and Twila Groff.

At the close of the program luncheon was served to 31 mem-bers and guests. The next meet-ing, April 7, will be held at the parish house with Mrs. Milton Renick, Mrs. Coit Wilson, Mrs. Earl Holt and Mrs. Raymond Holt as hostesses.

Style Show and Bridge Party Scheduled at Country Club

The annual Style Show and Bridge Party will highlight the month of April at the Pickaway Country Club Tuesday, April 5.

Costumes to be shown will be furnished by one of the local stores and modeled by members of the country club.

In addition merchants and indi-viduals have donated gifts that are to be used as prizes. If anyone has not been contacted and would like to donate a prize, please call one of the committee chairmen.

This is to be a great day for the ladies with luncheon served promptly at noon.

Each member is permitted to bring a guest but the number of reservations is limited due to seat-ing facilities.

Reservations will be accepted through Saturday by calling Mrs. Garold Crites, GR 4-4786; Mrs. Ray Carroll, GR 4-3060; or Mrs. Joseph Noecker, GR 4-3445.

Prizes will be awarded to the guests for the prettiest hat, most stylish hat, most attractive cos-tume and the smartest outfit. Door and bridge prizes also will be made.

Later in April a Mens Smoker and a Couples Bridge Party will be featured.

PCC Women Golfers Slate Thursday Meet

The first meeting of the year of the Pickaway Country Club women golfers will be held Thursday at the club.

Lunch will begin at 11:30 a. m. followed by the business meeting.

Officers for 1960-61 are Mrs. Charles G. Smith, chairman; Mrs. Richard Spies, vice - chairman; Mrs. Rudolph Chelickowsky, secre-tary; and Mrs. Ben Gordon, treas-urer.

You can add fresh cranberries to a standard recipe if you "up" the sugar and coarsely chop the berries.

Noggle To Speak At Pickaway Garden Club

Mr. M. E. Noggle, 149 W. Union St., will be guest speaker at the Pickaway Garden Club at 8 p. m. Friday in the Presbyterian Church basement.

Mr. Noggle's topic will be "Ros-es and How They Came to Picka-way County." He is a charter member of the club; member and former treasurer of the Columbus Rose Society; life long grower of roses; and former author of Round-town Retrospect for The Herald.

Exhibits will include arrange-ments of spring flowers or shrubs, or the March arrangement with driftwood featuring birds.

Hostesses will be Mrs. C. K. Vaughan, chairman; Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. John Mast, Mrs. Clare-ence McAbee, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mrs. G. Guy Campbell and Mrs. Ben Gordon.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

You've Been Had, Grandma

DEAR ABBY: My son and daughter-in-law have three child-ren, all under five years old. All of a sudden they decided to go on a trip. They asked me to keep their children and I was glad to do it.

They left on a Friday and said they'd be home Monday morning. I didn't hear a word from them until the following Friday. I could n't sleep nights for worrying about what could have happened so them.

The next time we went to the dentist, I was ordered to wait outside again, but when I heard my child gagging and crying I ran in to wipe his tears. The

dentist said very coldly, "GO BACK AND SIT DOWN, MOTH-ER!"

This upset me and my child. Do you think I should find another dentist?

DATE-NUT HEALTH LOAF

Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups sifted flour,

2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup dark brown sugar (firmly packed),

1/2 cup pre-sweetened wheat germ,

1/2 cup sliced dates, 1/2 cup chopped

walnuts (medium fine), 1 egg, 1/2 cup milk; 1 tablespoon butter or margarine (melted).

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and brown sug-; stir in wheat germ, dates and nuts. Beat egg until thick and lem-on colored; beat in milk; stir in melted butter. Add flour mixture; stir last until moistened. Turn into buttered 8 by 4 by 2 1/2 inch loaf

pan. Bake in moderate (350 de-grees) oven 45 to 50 minutes or un-till cake tester inserted comes out clean. Turn out on wire rack to cool; to slice bread thin, wrap tightly in transparent plastic wrap-ping and leave overnight.

MOTHER WANTS CURLS TO BE HIS TRADEMARK—Before leav-ing for school in Wealdstone, England, 11-year-old Anthony Braithwaite has his curls touched up by his sister, Valerie, 20. Those curls have made the boy the most controversial student at Whitefriars Council school. The headmaster con-tends "long hair like Tony's is dangerous and a menace in the laboratory where there are lathes or Bunsen burners." Tony's mother says to sheer would cut off his stage career. "His curls are going to be his trademark," she said.

SOON TO BE ONE—It's offi-cial now—Carol Heiss, the Olympic figure skating queen, and Hayes Alan Jen-kins, the 1956 men's Olympic figure skating king and now an Akron, O., attorney, will be married. The wedding will take place in New York, where they are shown, on April 30. Carol also revealed she has had a movie bid.

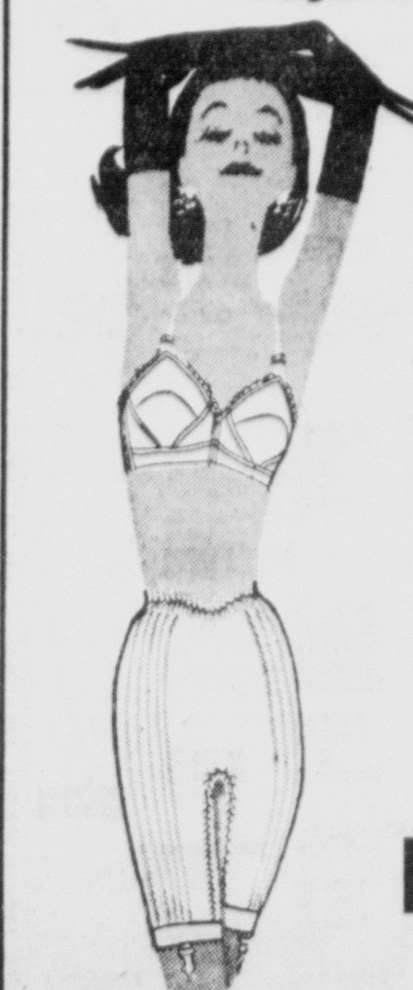

ALL AMERICAN . . . Woolen fabrics by American manufacturers are making high-fashion news this spring, as witness these smart outfits. The coat, by Zelinka Matlick, is a handsome pepper-and-salt tweed bound in wide white braid, with wide sleeves and huge patch pockets. The suit, by Seymour Fox, is a fea-ther-weight worsted with loose hip-length jacket, double-flap pockets and modified dolman sleeves.

If a garment to be stored has only a small part of wool in it, the treatment in storing must be the same as with an all wool garment. Moth larvae will get to the wool content and can badly damage the fabric in doing so.

Like onion? Cook thin strips of it in butter and add to eggs you are going to scramble. Go further and add some diced cooked ham and some minced green pepper and you'll have the filling for a Western Sandwich.

Big Stars Due In AAU Tests

4 All-Americans Set For Cage Encounter

DENVER (AP)—The big stars of college basketball, including four Associated Press All-Americans, are matched against Bartlesville's (Okla.) veteran AAU team in one of the four games opening the Olympic trials here Thursday night.

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, West Virginia's Jerry West, California's Darrall Imhoff and Tony Jackson of St. Johns N. Y. head the dream cast of the NCAA university all star team coached by Pete Newell of California.

They'll battle such AAU greats as Red Murrell (Drake), Burdette Halderson (Colorado), George Lee (Michigan), Tom Robitaille (Rice), Paul Neumann (Stanford), Les Lane (Oklahoma), Jerry Shipp Southeast Oklahoma) who form the core of Bartlesville's team, champion of the National Intercollegiate Ass'n. (NAIA) coached by Milton Jowers of Southwest Texas.

The other three games bring together the rest of the nation's greatest amateur talent, trying out for the 12 berths on the United States Olympic team that plays in Rome late this summer.

Ohio State's NCAA champions, including All-American Jerry Lucas, go against the small college stars from the National Athletic Intercollegiate Ass'n. (NAIA) coached by Milton Jowers of Southwest Texas.

Peoria, champion of the AAU tournament here last week, meets another collection of NCAA all stars coached by Ard McCutchan of Evansville (Ind.) College, who steered his team to the NCAA Small College Division title.

The other opening contest sends Akron (Ohio) Wingfoots, runnerup to Peoria in the AAU, against the Armed Forces All Stars.

All eight teams in the meet are scheduled to play three games.

CHS Track, Baseball Units Welcome Sun

Glittering sunshine early today indicated that Circleville High school's baseball and track teams might get genuine workouts in the open air for the first time.

So far the two squads have been forced inside most of the time due to inclement weather. Pent up energy should be released today.

Coach Dick Fisher's baseball team opens the season April 5 at Chillicothe. Coach John Current's track team is in the process of completing its schedule. The state will be announced this week.

The baseball team will hold drills at Ted Lewis Park, the same spot where all home games will be played. The track squad will practice at the CHS field, but all meets will be on the road due to lack of facilities for scheduled competition.

Coaches Fisher and Current will have several returning lettermen on their rosters. Some promising newcomers also will battle for team berths.

Kent Girl Wins Olympic Tryout

CLEVELAND (AP)—Miss Betty Maycock of the Kent Gymnastic Club and three men from the Cleveland Swiss Turners Club were selected Sunday to compete at West Point for the U. S. Olympic gymnastics team. Miss Maycock, a senior at Kent State High School, paced second among women gymnasts at the Pan-American Games and was 1958 AAU champion.

The men selected in the Lake Erie Assn. AAU championships here were Leslie Savary of Youngstown, who won the senior men's division; Joe Kotys, last year's winner and district champion since 1946; and Joe Torh.

Dayton, Salem Cage Wins Verify Earlier Predictions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—While Dayton Roosevelt and Salem Local of Champaign County were celebrating their newly won high school basketball championships today, the state's sportswriters and sportscasters also took a bow.

Roosevelt ended Cleveland East Tech's two-year reign in Class AA by a convincing 51-41 score in Saturday night's state tournament final, and Salem Local triumphed 74-59 over Frazeeburg's Red Raiders in Class A.

The sports writers, in the final Associated Press poll taken when all 432 Class AA teams were still in action, had designated Roosevelt as the No. 1 team, and East Tech as No. 2. They finished just that way.

The same scribes hailed Roosevelt's Ray Brown as the top Class AA player in the state, and Al Thrasher of Salem Local as the best in the 561-school Class A list.

Brown led the big school tournament scorers with 35 points, Thrasher the Class A group with 33. In the pre-tourney voting John Woolums of Roosevelt and Bill Hupp of Salem Local were designated as "coaches of the year" in their divisions—and each won his state championship.

Salem Local had been tagged as the No. 3 team in the final Class A poll, but the Tigers knocked off second-ranked New Boston in the semi-finals, and then walloped Frazeeburg — the team which kayoted top-ranked Northwestern of Wayne County—in the playoff tilt.

As Roosevelt and Salem Local moved to the thrones with identical 27-0 records, it marked only the second time in 38 years that both champions were unbeaten. The previous time was two years ago when East Tech won with 26-0 in Class AA and Northwestern with 29-0 in Class A.

The tourney results gave southwestern Ohio an added boost in basketball prestige. That area has won 19 of 38 Class AA championships and 10 of the Class A crowns.

Other districts, in Class AA, show the northeast and east with 6 championships, central with 4, northwest with 2 and the southeast with 1. In Class A the northeast has 9, northwest 8, southeast 6 central 4, and east 1.

Salem Local is only the sixth team in 38 years to win the Class

A crown with a perfect record, Roosevelt the twelfth in Class AA. One of the unbeaten champions in the big school division was Akron West in 1932—which wound up with a real basketball oddity of 19 victories, no losses and one tie. The last five Class AA crowns have gone to undefeated teams.

Poorrest Class AA record to take the title was Newark's 16-1 in 1936. Somerset and Yorkville won in Class A in 1942 and 1943, each with six losses, for the poorest in that division.

Only Steve McCullough, who scored 25 and 21 in Salem Local's two games, will be back next year from the class A champion's starting lineup. Roosevelt loses all but L. C. Snow, a classy guard and forward John Henderson from the starting five, but Woolums said "we have a good nucleus and we'll be back."

The two-day tournament set an attendance record of 55,553, bettering last year's mark of 54,338. The two classes a seasons drew 27,060 fans, the CLASS AA games 27,333. A year ago the "AA" teams attracted only 25,951.

Urbana, Dayton Turn Out To Hail Returning Champs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"Welcome home, champs."

Those were the key words voiced in Dayton and Urbana Sunday as Ohio's Class AA and A high school basketball champions returned home from the battles of the state tournament in Columbus.

Some 25,000 fans turned out to welcome the heroes. Dayton Roosevelt's Teddies, the Class AA Kings, and Salem Local's Tigers, the small school victors from near Urbana.

Nearly 10,000 persons were on hand at Dayton's Triangle Park to cheer the Teddies as they drove into view. From there a three-mile procession took the team and crowd to Roosevelt High School where Dayton Mayor R. William Patterson proclaimed the Teddies "the greatest basketball team in the history of Dayton."

About a mile from Urbana, an estimated 15,000 fans waited patiently for the arrival of Salem Local's Tigers. When they arrived, the team was escorted into the city in parade fashion. There, at Monument Square, homage was paid by State Auditor James Rhodes to "one of the best teams that has ever won the state championship."

Dayton Roosevelt coach John Woolums expressed optimism that the Teddies could repeat as champions next year. He told the throng at the high school, referring to the championship trophy: "It's the first on the list for me. We've struggled for it for many years."

"As for me," the Class AA coach of the year went on, "I've no intention of retiring. We're coming back up here (to Columbus) next year."

Robert Kline, president of the Dayton Board of Education, praised the Teddies as performing "a difficult task in a wonderful manner . . . they have displayed the stick-to-itiveness that wins."

But by far the biggest ovation went to Arne D. Holmbo, Roosevelt principal, when he announced there will be no school Monday in honor of the Teddies' triumph.

State Auditor Rhodes told Salem's Tigers, "St. John Arena (site of the state tourney) has never seen a team that has shown better sportsmanship than your team . . . I congratulate you from the state of Ohio."

Tiger mentor Bill Hupp, named Class A coach of the year by the Associated Press, said he felt "very humble being the coach of this team."

He added: "It sure is nice to win, especially if you win more than you lose."

Oscar was not in a talkative mood regarding his future basketball plans after starting in a losing cause in the East's 67-66 victory over the West in the New York Herald Tribune's Fresh Air Fund All-Star Game Saturday.

But Smith, who coached the Western team, said: "I think I know Oscar. He is not concerned with a fantastic salary as the Globetrotters figure to offer him. He wants a home, security and a chance to build a future. As you know he is getting married in June."

"He figures the Globetrotters wouldn't offer him all of that since the team is constantly on the go. With the NBA he'll be able to set up a home and possibly go into the business of selling real estate and insurance in the off season."

Rookie, 40, May Win Nod With Pirates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A minor baseball miracle is taking place at Fort Myers, Fla., where Diomedes Olivo, a 40-year-old rookie pitcher, is trying to earn a berth with Pittsburgh's Pesky Pirates.

Picked up from Poza Rica of the Mexican League, Olivo impressed again Sunday by pitching one-hit ball for two innings in his exhibition debut as Pittsburgh blanked Washington 4-0 for its 11th consecutive victory.

Olivo compiled a 21-8 record in the double A Mexican circuit last season. He appeared in 35 games, completed 23 of 30 starts, worked 247 innings, struck out 253, walked only 61 and turned in a 3.02 earned run average.

Despite Olivo's age, Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh decided to take a look at the 6-foot-1, 195-pound native of the Dominican Republic. He may be just the man to spell relief specialist Roy Face.

Olivo's pitched creditably in most of his intrasquad workouts and showed a hopping fast ball in his first official outing for the Pirates, who haven't lost since dropping their first three games.

Other fine pitching performances were turned in Sunday by St. Louis' Vinegar Bend Mizell, who went nine innings and beat Detroit 3-1 on a five-hitter, and Cincinnati's Jim Brosnan, a 4-3 victor over Milwaukee with a six-hit, nine-inning job.

In other games, Chicago's White Sox edged Philadelphia 7-6, Baltimore defeated New York 3-1, San Francisco beat Boston 6-3, Kansas City nipped Los Angeles 3-2 and Chicago's Cubs whipped Cleveland 3-2.

The TV folk are credited with insisting that the show must go on. In golf no amount of luck or skill will enable any player to overcome extreme cold or high winds.

Your longing to start the new season might send you out to play in the snow with a red ball, but you wouldn't consider it a fair test of your skill.

Top performances require reasonably dry fairways and greens, fairly calm days for good body balance and warm temperatures for good muscular action.

At stake is a lucrative television shot against Willie Pastrano in Miami Beach, April 22. This is Jones' first venture against a ranking 175-pounder although he holds a victory over the only fighter to beat Clay Jones, 23, whipped Clarence (Tiger) Floyd last Jan. 10. Then on March 25, Floyd outpointed the 21-year-old Clay in Philadelphia. Jones' record is 12-0, including 7 knockouts. Clay's record is 11-1-2 including 8 kayos.

Golfing with ALEX MORRISON Teacher of Champions

Martha Bennington, score-keeper during pre winter tournament, wears mittens, woollens and parka in freezing weather.

Golf can be played, at least by the pros, in freezing cold, flooded fairways and howling gales, in the opinion of some sponsors of tournament broadcasts.

If you watched the broadcasts of the Crosby clambake with the heavily-clothed contestants battling against drenching rains and hurricane winds you must have wondered why the final round wasn't postponed.

Bosox Eye List Of Questions

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Bill Jurgens starts his first full season managing a Boston Red Sox club on which very little is set.

"We won't know until the week before the season begins what kind of a club we'll have," declares the former Chicago Cub and New York Giants' infielder.

In the catching department trouble looms if the Red Sox have to return Russ Nixon to Cleveland and Sammy White remains retired. When Boston traded White to the Tribe for Nixon, Sammy said he was quitting. So Cleveland has asked Nixon back.

How much will Ted Williams be able to play?

He's appeared in more spring games than in recent years and says he feels "pretty good." He hit only .254 last year as a back ailment plagued him.

There's no doubt about Boston's third base job. Frank Malzone, second only to Jackie Jensen in runs-batted-in for the club with 92 last season, anchors the infield there.

Jensen, although a recent visitor at the Red Sox camp, hasn't changed his decision of the past winter to retire.

With him gone, right-handed hitting power looms as a major need. First baseman Ron Jackson, who had several trials with the Chicago White Sox and hit .286 with 30 homers at Indianapolis last year, could supply power. But his spring performance hasn't been impressive.

If Jackson doesn't make the varsity, Pete Runnels and Vic Wertz shared the first base job. But Jurgens would prefer to use Pete at second.

Don Buddin again will be at shortstop. Outfielders include Williams, veteran Bobby Thomson who was acquired by trade from the Cubs, Gene Stephens, Marty Keough, Jim Busby and rookies Lou Clinton and Jerry Mallett.

Tom Brewer, Jerry Casale, Ike Delock and Frank Sullivan head the returning delegation in the pitching department. All are right-handers. Casale posted a 13-8 record last year, Brewer 10-12, Delock 11-6 and Sullivan 9-11.

Bill Monbouquette posted a 7-7 record in his first full season of major league ball.

Ex-Yankee Tom Sturdivant, obdurate in a trade with Kansas City, could also win a starting assignment.

Only left-handers on the roster are Tom Borland, who had a 14-8 mark with Minneapolis last season, Ted Bowsfield and Ted Wills who also did most of their 1959 work in the Minnesota city.

Ex-Cub Dave Hillman, counted on for extended relief service, hasn't yet recovered from a shoulder injury suffered in an automobile accident here.

Jurgens observed, "There is quite a bit of building to be done."

Celtics Collect Playoff Opener

Boston Is Stickout In Win over Hawks

BOSTON (AP)—The hot-handed Boston Celtics have caught St. Louis in the middle of a style adjustment to get the jump in the National Basketball Assn. championship playoff series which both clubs figure is going to get much tougher.

Boston romped to a 140-122 get-away victory Sunday which produced nine records, including most points in a game by one team and two in a title playoff contest.

"It was just one of those days," shrugged happy Celtics Coach Red Auerbach who agreed with the Hawks' Ed Macauley that the best-of-seven struggle is far from over. "We couldn't do anything wrong," Auerbach continued. "You don't beat these guys that easily very often."

"Tuesday's second game is the big one," Macauley said. "The fact that we had to travel after playing Minneapolis Saturday and that the Lakers are not a running club like Boston played a part in the outcome."

"I hated to beat them so badly," commented Bill Sharman of the Celtics who got 23 points while Tom Heinsohn had 24, Frank Ramsey 21 and Bob Cousy 20 in the balanced Boston attack. "We caught them when they were tired. They'll get tougher. When we got hot like that we tend to think we can do it any time and it isn't so."

Cousy was the man who released the torrent of Boston points. In the first 4½ minutes of the second period the veteran backcourt wizard directed an outburst when sent the Celts from a 30-25 lead out to a commanding 47-30 margin. In that span Cousy scored two baskets, assisted on four more, stole the ball three times and intercepted a pass.

Orville Liquor Store Robbers Are Arrested

ORVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The last of four men sought in a $900 robbery of the state liquor store here Friday night was rounded up Sunday at his home in Canton. Police Chief Irvin Eshelman said he has prepared armed robbery charges against the quartet, all from Canton. Eshelman said about $500 of the loot was recovered.

Suffolk Downs race track near Boston has stable accommodations for 1,214 horses.

NEW YORK (AP)—In the old days, Sunday afternoon was the special property of the intellectual crowd. Even the most self-conscious status seeker would admit—nay, boast—he turned on his set at that time.

But since the demise of "Omni-bus" and "Wide, Wide World," Sunday afternoon has been pretty much filled with odds and ends, given stature and prestige only by the occasional appearance of the New York philharmonic and Leonard Bernstein.

CBS — and rather late too — is making a stab at changing this. Sunday it broadcasts the first of three hour-long symposiums on contemporary problems, called "The Great Challenge."

This first one was hung on the question: "Can we improve our education for leadership?" Discussing the subject were New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, former Air Force Secretary Thomas K. Finletter, newspaperman Marquis Childs and Victor L. Butterfield, president of Wesleyan University.

They answered, of course, in the affirmative. But the discussion, thoughtful and sprightly, ranged far afield. It included generalities about the need for a sense of purpose and a specific plea that business and labor make it easier for their employees to volunteer in government jobs.

It was a good, meaty hour, but one that required pretty close concentration. It would have made a great midwinter series — it's almost unfair to launch it just when the outdoors start beckoning.

Recommended tonight: Steve Allen Show, NBC, 10-11 — Diana Dors and Johnny Carson guest on a show which has been picking up steam and humor lately; June Allyson Show CBS, 10:30-11 — James Mason in "Once Upon a Knight," a comedy; Jack Paar Show, NBC, 11:15-1 a.m.—first of the taped shows from London.

Nation's Polio Total Drops during Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only five polio cases were reported by the states for the week ended March 19. Four were paralytic.

Reporting this today, the Public Health Service said the total for all types of cases was the lowest for any week since March 1958.

States reported 851 cases of infectious and serum hepatitis last week, the highest weekly total since 1955. Hepatitis is a viral disease which affects the liver.

Bosox Eye List Of Questions

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Bill Jurgens starts his first full season managing a Boston Red Sox club on which very little is set.

"We won't know until the week before the season begins what kind of a club we'll have," declares the former Chicago Cub and New York Giants' infielder.

In the catching department trouble looms if the Red Sox have to return Russ Nixon to Cleveland and Sammy White remains retired. When Boston traded White to the Tribe for Nixon, Sammy said he was quitting. So Cleveland has asked Nixon back.

How much will Ted Williams be able to play?

He's appeared in more spring games than in recent years and says he feels "pretty good." He hit only .254 last year as a back ailment plagued him.

There's no doubt about Boston's third base job. Frank Malzone, second only to Jackie Jensen in runs-batted-in for the club with 92 last season, anchors the infield there.

Jensen, although a recent visitor at the Red Sox camp, hasn't changed his decision of the past winter to retire.

With him gone, right-handed hitting power looms as a major need. First baseman Ron Jackson, who had several trials with the Chicago White Sox and hit .286 with 30 homers at Indianapolis last year, could supply power. But his spring performance hasn't been impressive.

If Jackson doesn't make the varsity, Pete Runnels and Vic Wertz shared the first base job. But Jurgens would prefer to use Pete at second.

Don Buddin again will be at shortstop.

Outfielders include Williams, veteran Bobby Thomson who was acquired by trade from the Cubs, Gene Stephens, Marty Keough, Jim Busby and rookies Lou Clinton and Jerry Mallett.

Tom Brewer, Jerry Casale, Ike Delock and Frank Sullivan head the returning delegation in the pitching department. All are right-handers. Casale posted a 13-8 record last year. Brewer 10-12, Delock 11-6 and Sullivan 9-11.

Bill Mombouquette posted a 7-7 record in his first full season of major league ball.

Ex-Yankee Tom Sturdivant, obtained in a trade with Kansas City, could also win a starting assignment.

Only left-handers on the roster are Tom Borland, who had a 14-8 mark with Minneapolis last season, Ted Bowsfield and Ted Willis who also did most of their 1959 work in the Minnesota city.

Ex-Cub Dave Hillman, counted on for extended relief service, hasn't yet recovered from a shoulder injury suffered in an automobile accident here.

Jurgens observed, "There is quite a bit of building to be done."

Celtics Collect Playoff Opener

Boston Is Stickout In Win over Hawks

BOSTON (AP)—The hot-handed Boston Celtics have caught St. Louis in the middle of a style adjustment to get the jump in the National Basketball Assn. championship playoff series which both clubs figure is going to get much tougher.

Boston romped to a 140-122 get-away victory Sunday which produced nine records, including most points in a game by one team and two in a title playoff contest.

"It was just one of those days," shrugged happy Celtics Coach Red Auerbach who agreed with the Hawks' Ed Macauley that the best-of-seven struggle is far from over. "We couldn't do anything wrong." Auerbach continued, "You don't beat these guys that easily very often."

"Tuesday's second game is the big one," Macauley said. "The fact that we had to travel after playing Minneapolis Saturday and that the Lakers are not a running club like Boston played a part in the outcome."

"I hated to beat them so badly," commented Bill Sharman of the Celtics who got 23 points while Tom Heinsohn had 24, Frank Ramsey 21 and Bob Cousy 20 in the balanced Boston attack. "We caught them when they were tired. They'll get tougher. When we got hot like that we tend to think we can do it any time and it isn't so."

Cousy was the man who released the torrent of Boston points. In the first 4½ minutes of the second period the veteran backcourt wizard directed an outburst when sent the Celts from a 30-25 lead out to a commanding 47-30 margin. In that span Cousy scored two baskets, assisted on four more, stole the ball three times and intercepted a pass.

Orrville Liquor Store Robbers Are Arrested

ORRVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The last of four men sought in a $900 robbery of the state liquor store here Friday night was rounded up Sunday at his home in Canton. Police Chief Irvin Eshelman said he has prepared armed robbery charges against the quartet, all from Canton. Eshelman said about $500 of the loot was recovered.

NEW YORK (AP)—In the old days, Sunday afternoon was the special property of the intellectual crowd. Even the most self-conscious status seeker would admit—nay, boast—he turned on his set at that time.

But since the demise of "Omni-bus" and "Wide, Wide World," Sunday afternoon has been pretty much filled with odds and ends, given stature and prestige only by the occasional appearance of the New York Philharmonic and Leonard Bernstein.

CBS — and rather late too — is making a stab at changing this. Sunday it broadcast the first of three hour-long symposiums on contemporary problems, called "The Great Challenge."

This first one was hung on the question: "Can we improve our education for leadership?"

Discussing the subject were New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, former Air Force Secretary Thomas K. Finletter, newspaperman Marquis Childs and Victor L. Butterfield, president of Wesleyan University.

They answered, of course, in the affirmative. But the discussion, thoughtful and sprightly, ranged far afield. It included generalities about the need for a sense of purpose and a specific plea that business and labor make it easier for their employees to volunteer in government jobs.

It was a good, meaty hour, but one that required pretty close concentration. It would have made a great midwinter series — it's almost unfair to launch it just when the outdoors start beckoning.

Nation's Polio Total Drops during Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only five polio cases were reported by the states for the week ended March 19. Four were paralytic.

Reporting this today, the Public Health Service said the total for all types of cases was the lowest for any week since March 1958.

States reported 851 cases of infectious and serum hepatitis last week, the highest weekly total since 1955. Hepatitis is a viral disease which affects the liver.

Experts Find Evidence Tying Cancer, Virus

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Top virus experts today presented new and surprising evidence that human cancers probably are caused by viruses.

They also reported that some viruses, contrary to current scientific opinion, can produce substances which destroy cancers.

If specific viruses can be pinpointed in human cancers, new methods might be developed to prevent or control the disease.

"Every man is a walking museum of many viruses," Dr. Jerome T. Sylvester of the University of Minnesota told a seminar for science writers sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Man harbors more than 150 viruses, mostly just recently detected, and "we are not sure what many of them do," he said. But "now we believe that some human cancers must be caused by viruses."

Dr. Sarah Stewart of the National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md., reported that extracts from two human cancers, and from the urine of three children with cancer have produced curious, cancer-like growth changes in healthy human cells grown in laboratory dishes.

There are grounds to suspect—but no proof yet—that the extracts could contain a virus.

She also has found that a virus causing leukemia in mice can induce cancers in other types of animals. Humans handling the cancerous mice have been found to have antibodies against the virus, indicating they had been infected with it but had resisted it.

"There are tantalizing leads" now to incriminate viruses in human cancers, said Dr. Wendell M. Stanley, Nobel Prize winner of the University of California.

Man Rapidly Making World 'Unhealthy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Man is rapidly making the world such an unhealthy place to live in that a whole new approach to public health problems may be needed.

A major new division in the U. S. Public Health Service is being planned to deal with the poisoning of the air, water and food supply that has accompanied 20th Century progress, Surgeon General Leroy Burney says.

The size of the problem and the inadequacy of existing procedures for coping with it were underscored at a recent hearing before a House Appropriations subcommittee which released its report today.

The principal areas explored by a dozen expert witnesses were

State Land Mineral Leases Ruled Valid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio can grant leases for removal of oil and gas and other minerals from state forests, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy has ruled.

Ohio Fuel Gas Co. has asked the Forestry Division for oil and gas leases in part of Shawnee State Forest in Athens and Scioto counties, said Natural Resources Director Herbert B. Eagon.

McElroy's opinion to Eagon said the director has the authority to grant mineral rights, which includes gas and oil, on a royalty basis, and the Division of Forestry may execute a lease for its removal.

Both the attorney general and natural resources director must approve such leases, the ruling said.

10 Cardinals Are Created By Pope John

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today created 10 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church, including three whose names will remain secret until some future date.

The new cardinals previously named for elevation included the first Negro, the first Japanese and the first Filipino prince of the church. One Italian newspaper called it the "rainbow consistory."

"Quod vobis videtur. (What do you think of it?)" the pontiff asked at the end of his Latin allocution naming the new cardinals. Thirty-seven previous cardinals, meeting with the Pope behind the massive closed doors of the Vatican's Consistorial Hall, silently removed their skullcaps in assent.

Two papal emissaries at once began a round of calls to deliver the official notification, or biglietto, to the seven new cardinals waiting at various church centers in the Vatican or in Rome.

The secret consistory today was the first in a series of ceremonies. The climax will come Thursday in the colorful public consistory in St. Peter's Basilica at which the new cardinals receive their traditional red hats, the broad-brimmed, low-crowned galeros.

The seven new prices of the church who had been designated by Pope John on March 3 are Bishop Laurian Rugambwa, 47, of Rutabo, Tanganyika, the college's first Negro member; Archbishop Peter Tatuso Dio, 67, of Tokyo; Archbishop Rufino J. Santos, 51, of Manila; Archbishop Bernard Jan Alfrink, 59, of Utrecht, Netherlands; Archbishop Joseph Lefebvre, 67, of Bourges, France; and the Most Rev. Luigi Traglia, 64, and the Most Rev. Antonio Bacci, 64, both Italian members of the Vatican Curia.

BRAKES HATE HEAT!

Buick's fin-cooled Aluminum Drums get rid of heat quicker so you're safer!

Brakes generate their own worst enemy—terrible heat. Excessive heat is bad because it may cause brakes to lose part of their effectiveness. So the faster you can dissipate it, the better off you are.

Buick gets rid of heat faster by using fin-cooled brake drums. On the front wheels, where most of the braking is done, the drums are aluminum. They cost more to make but they shrug off heat much faster than drums made of ordinary metal. Buick is the only American car that makes them standard, at no extra cost, because you will be safer with them.

Best time to buy a Buick '60 is now because you will get top dollar on your old car and have a wide selection of colors and body styles from which to choose. You can own a quality Buick for less than you might think, and your Buick Dealer can arrange terms to suit your budget.

State Land Mineral Leases Ruled Valid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio can grant leases for removal of oil and gas and other minerals from state forests, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy has ruled.

Ohio Fuel Gas Co. has asked the Forestry Division for oil and gas leases in part of Shawnee State Forest in Athens and Scioto counties, said Natural Resources Director Herbert B. Eagon.

McElroy's opinion to Eagon said the director has the authority to grant mineral rights, which includes gas and oil, on a royalty basis, and the Division of Forestry may execute a lease for its removal.

Both the attorney general and natural resources director must approve such leases, the ruling said.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

The March lamb arrived in Ohio Sunday. Mostly sunny skies prevailed in all sections and breezy southerly winds zoomed the temperatures into the balmy 70s in the south and to near 50 in the north.

During the night variable cloudiness prevailed in the north, with fair skies south.

Temperatures were normal or above for the first time since mid-February. Early morning readings today were in the 40s. Columbus had 42, Cincinnati 48, Cleveland 44 and Youngstown 45.

A weak weather front will move into the northern sections of the state today and tonight. Temperatures will be a little cooler north today and tonight, while mild temperatures continue south.

Partly cloudy to fair weather will prevail through the next 24 hours.

OHIO FIVE - DAY FORECAST

Temperatures will average about 6 degrees above normal north and near 10 degrees above normal south. Normal high 51 north to 55 south, normal low 32-38. Warmer north Tuesday, turning a little colder most sections about Wednesday, warming again about Thursday or Friday. Precipitation will total around three-quarters inch in showers about Wednesday or Thursday and again about Friday or Saturday.

10 Cardinals Are Created By Pope John

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today created 10 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church, including three whose names will remain secret until some future date.

The new cardinals previously named for elevation included the first Negro, the first Japanese and the first Filipino prince of the church. One Italian newspaper called it the "rainbow consistory."

"Quod vobis videtur. (What do you think of it?)" the pontiff asked at the end of his Latin allocution naming the new cardinals. Thirty-seven previous cardinals, meeting with the Pope behind the massive closed doors of the Vatican's Consistorial Hall, silently removed their skullcaps in assent.

Two papal emissaries at once began a round of calls to deliver the official notification, or biglietto, to the seven new cardinals waiting at various church centers in the Vatican or in Rome.

The secret consistory today was the first in a series of ceremonies. The climax will come Thursday in the colorful public consistory in St. Peter's Basilica at which the new cardinals receive their traditional red hats, the broad-brimmed, low-crowned galeros.

The seven new princes of the church who had been designated by Pope John on March 3 are Bishop Laurian Rugambwa, 47, of Rutaba, Tanganyika, the college's first Negro member; Archbishop Peter Tatuso Dio, 67, of Tokyo; Archbishop Rufino J. Santos, 51, of Manila; Archbishop Bernard Jan Alfrink, 59, of Utrecht, Netherlands; Archbishop Joseph Lefebvre, 67, of Bourges, France; and the Most Rev. Luigi Traglia, 64, and the Most Rev. Antonio Bacci, 64, both Italian members of the Vatican Curia.

Lebanon Prison Opens

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—The Lebanon State Prison opens for prisoners today after a four-day open house that attracted about 4,000 visitors to tour the institution. An estimated 2,000 visitors Sunday helped snarl traffic on highways around the new prison.
